

Clean Up Our Air!

In the last few weeks, almost everybody has complained about heavy smoke from Farmer's Feed. It smells bad and it can hurt our lungs and eyes. Particles from the smoke may endanger our health and the health of our children.

Last March, Farmer's Feed refused to let the State Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) take tests of the pollution coming out of the smokestack, so that dangers of the fumes could be proved.

It's time that we take action toward bettering our environment.

The lives we save may be our own!
